

BERKELEY EQUITY TRAINING SERIES

THE UC BERKELEY EQUITY TRAINING SERIES

is an intentional progression of three-hour topical sessions facilitated by subject matter experts and equity practitioners. This is a cohorted professional learning experience that equips staff and managers with foundational theories, frameworks that will guide them in becoming more culturally fluent and racially literate leaders. The goal of ETS is for participants to apply new knowledge to their roles and work at the University of California at Berkeley.

PARTICIPANT EXPERIENCE

All experiences will be hosted on Friday afternoons in fall semester from 12:00 p.m.- 3:00 p.m. via Zoom and participants are expected to attend all sessions.

DIVERSITY
EQUITY
INCLUSION & BELONGING

Berkeley
UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

DATE	WORKSHOP	FACILITATOR
MARCH 4, 2022	Anti-Black Racism in Colleges & Universities	J Luke Wood, Ph.D.
MARCH 18, 2022	Native American Identity and Culture	Adrienne Keene, Ph.D.
APRIL 1, 2022	Disability in Higher Education	Isabel Dees, J.D.
APRIL 15, 2022	Supporting Chicano/Latinx Employees	Cesar Cruz, Ed.D.
MAY 13, 2022	Solidarity with the LGBTQIA+ Community	Jamie Washington, Ph.D.
MAY 27, 2022	Asian Pacific American Identity and Culture	Jennifer Ho, Ph.D.
JUNE 10, 2022	Achieving Organizational Excellence through DEI	Regina Stanback-Stroud, Ed.D.